

A wooden bridge with metal railings leads through a dense green forest. The bridge is made of light-colored wooden planks and has dark metal railings with a lattice pattern. The forest is lush with green trees and foliage, creating a vibrant and natural setting. The bridge arches slightly in the distance, leading the eye towards the center of the frame.

THE URANTIA REVELATION

A Bridge to the Future

URANTIA FOUNDATION 2014 ANNUAL REPORT

Dear Friends of the Urantia Revelation,

Thanks to your volunteerism and generous donations in 2014, Urantia Foundation's trustees, staff, and volunteers continued the joyful work of disseminating The Urantia Book and its teachings into the world. Important advances were made in global distribution, outreach, education, and translations and revisions. Even better, the dream of a cooperative global community of Urantia Book readers feels closer than ever. Brick by brick, shoulder to shoulder, we are building a solid foundation for the Urantia Revelation. We count on your continuing partnership in this effort.

As you know, we are temporary players on the stage of a world destined for transformation by this revelation. Only revelation can move humanity from our current state of materialism into an era of higher spiritual values and intelligent love for one another. The time will come when happiness replaces much of today's sorrow because we will have learned that we are all children of the same heavenly Father. But first, we must succeed in passing this wonderful book on to future generations.

The teachings of The Urantia Book are the revelatory fulcrum that will uplift civilization.

Thank you for helping to spiritually transform the world by making The Urantia Book readily available. You are an important part of the living bridge that spans from this generation of readers to subsequent generations. We need and deeply appreciate your support. These are times to treasure.

In gratitude,

Mo Siegel, President
Urantia Foundation

THE REVELATION BRIDGE

In 2014, the Urantia Papers celebrated their eightieth birthday. This revelation was first sponsored and indited in 1934, given to human management in 1955, shepherded by the Greatest Generation into the 1980s, and then passed to the Silent Generation and subsequently to the Baby Boomers. Across generations, much has been done to seed the teachings of The Urantia Book worldwide. But now an important step must be taken to secure the future.

A CRITICAL POINT IN OUR HISTORY AND HOW YOU CAN HELP

The human management of The Urantia Book might be facing its most significant challenge to date. Globally, younger people are leaving institutional religion at historically unprecedented rates. They want more meaningful experiences, but they are not sure where to look. The way they think, speak, learn, and live is unique to their generation. In North America and Europe, few young people attend Urantia Book study groups or socialize with other readers. Yet our challenge is to safely pass the Urantia Revelation into their hands. This will require resources, ingenuity, and hard work.

Outside of Latin America, most readers of The Urantia Book are older than sixty. Almost all the donations that fund translations, book distribution, and education come from older North Americans. Like our founders and predecessors who provided for us, the current readership must build a financial bridge that spans the next thirty years until future generations can afford to carry the load.

Included with this annual report is a planned giving brochure. In it, we invite you to be part of what we call the Revelation Bridge. This is our way of joining together all those who leave a planned gift to Urantia Foundation. If you are like most readers, the fifth epochal revelation has been instrumental in transforming your life. Now you are privileged to leave a legacy to what is arguably the most important spiritual cause since Jesus.

In addition to your financial support, we welcome your input as to how to bring the incomparable teachings of The Urantia Book to the next generation. Would you agree that the book's timeless truths feel more relevant, alive, and insightful than ever? We must be skillful in sharing them with young people! We do this work with faith that the long-term revelatory mission of sorting, adjusting, and uplifting our thinking will happen as certainly as morning follows night. So please help pass The Urantia Book and its ennobling teachings to our children and grandchildren.

“But the security of civilization itself still rests on the growing willingness of one generation to invest in the welfare of the next and future generations.”

The Hales Family, the Forum, and the Urantia Papers ~ With love, John Hales

Why was I introduced to the Urantia teachings and my contemporaries were not? Because my parents and grandparents were involved in one of the most amazing events in the history of Urantia!

My grandparents, Willard and Carrie Hales, lived in Oak Park, Illinois, with their three children. Will founded a grain trading company and was a member of the Chicago Board of Trade. In the early 1920s, Carrie suffered from depression and was referred to Dr. William Sadler. When the Sadlers began holding Sunday afternoon meetings, my grandparents were invited.

“I reasoned that my parents and grandparents spent serious time with Urantia, so maybe I had better pay attention!”

My father, Bill, and his high school sweetheart, Mary Lou Cortis, joined my grandparents at the Forum in 1930. They married and had my sister, Lynne, and me. Sunday afternoon Forum meetings were a routine that we never questioned.

My high school interest in science fiction and life on other worlds led my parents to introduce me to the Urantia Papers. As was customary, I met Dr. Sadler, he explained the Forum, and I began attending the meetings. Since there was no published book, you had to visit 533, check out one paper, and read it there. I began with Part III.

The book was published in 1955, and the Forum became First Urantia Society. In 1950 my father became the first president of Urantia Foundation and served for twenty-three years. Both of my parents were founding members of the Urantia Brotherhood.

In the mid-1960s, while working as a social worker in New York City, my Brotherhood service began as a field representative, corresponding with readers and attending new study groups. In 1974 I became resident director, moved back to Chicago, and continued this exhilarating work until retiring in 2006.

I was blessed with parents and grandparents who were involved in the Urantia Papers project. Without fanfare or zealous appeal from these caring forebearers, I grew into my deep belief in a heavenly Father who infinitely loves each of us and have come to view every person I meet as a spiritual brother or sister.
